

Cover Letter

To Whom It May Concern, I am applying for the position of golang developer. Based on the job requirements, I believe that I have the necessary skills and qualifications for the role. In particular, I have experience with programming in golang, as well as experience with developing web applications. Additionally, I am a quick learner and have the ability to adapt to new challenges quickly. I am confident that I can be a valuable asset to your team.

Sincerely,

Sina Lalebakhsh